The bath is equipped with a stirrer, mounted in a rack which also serves as a holder for 10 test tubes. An adjustable clamp on one side of the bath is capable of holding in vertical position test tubes of diameters between three-eighths and three-fourths inch. Accessory holders are available for 1-inch outside diameter test tubes and for specific-gravity bottles. A diagram of the temperature-regulating system, which is shown in figure 16, represents a modification of that devised by J. L. R. Morgan. 9 It consists of a thermoregulator operating on a 12-volt direct-current primary circuit and opening or closing a secondary circuit of 110 volts direct current by means of a high resistance telegraphic relay. The latter circuit operates a telegraphic sounder that opens and closes a valve admitting cold water to the jar. When the temperature is higher than 60 F. the primary circuit is closed, this in turn closing the secondary circuit, opening the valve, and admitting cold water until the temperature of the bath is brought down to 60 F. The bath is provided with a constant level overflow outlet, and the stirrer is driven by a small motor that is mounted on the wall back of the bath so as not to cause vibration of the instruments used on the shelf surrounding the glass jar. A variety...
