C. , was thrown aside with the establishment of the aristocratic government in 3221, but, unlike that of the priests, was not reestablished till three years after 3076, in 3043. In the summer of this year Demetrius Poliorcetes, at the command of his father, Antigonos, abandoned the siege of Rhodes in order a second time to rescue Athens from Kassander, and it was doubtless to commemorate his victorious entry into the city that his fathers tribe, Antigonis--the first in the official order--was given the privilege of possessing the secretaryship for the year then commencing. In the year 3032, however, his own tribe, Demetrias, was passed by and the secretaryship was given to Erechtheis. The reason for this is not hard to find. It was seemingly in the early part of the year 303, while Poliorcetes was absent in the Peloponnesus, that...
