The reminiscences of Samuel H. Hadley in the February number are well worth reading. The March number of The Auburn Seminary Record contains the addresses on Some Present Problems of the Church which were given at the Mid-Winter Conference at Auburn. Considerable space is also given to the well loved Prof. Darling, who has just passed to his reward. The Middle West Advocate is a newcomer in the field of general literary journalism. W. W. Davis is contributing a series of short essays on ten great Americans which are very good reading. The March cover of Everybody : Magazine is the most unique idea we have ever seen worked out. We find everybody reading Everybody s Magazine. The Spoilers has developed an intensity of interest almost too intense for comfort but compelling of attention. All who are reading...
