Excerpt: . . . 11 FEMA is reviewing all of this and coming out with a report, which is not complete, and we will be advising back to those dis-tribts in the country about the 911 system and what we need to do to fix it, or be ready if it fails. OLLINS Senator C. When do you expect your assessment to be completed UITER Mr. S. Were working with the Federal agencies right now, on a monthly basis. We were supposed to have met this past Wednesday, but unfortunately I was on the Gulf Coast dealing with the hurricane so we had to postpone that a couple of weeks. We expect to finish our initial assessment, of the Federal Govern-ments capability to respond, in the next few weeks. We plan to have our evaluations ready for Johns Council by December: Federal response planning should be based on what we know at that point in time. The Director of our agency, James Lee Witt, plans to make a re-port specifically to the governors at the NGA meeting here in Washington in February of 1999. FEMA will be conducting, in co-operation with John Koskinen, some exercises and evaluations in April 1999, followed then with specific corrective actions - such as pre-deployment, if thats what it takes, a warning system to mon-itor Y2K as it works around the world so that we see whats hap-pening and could get as much advance warning to our local govern-ments,...
